From the Editor's Mill

By Rick Dykes

AS I WAS WALKING TOWARD THE GYM the other day, I noticed a worried little man with a big brown briefcase hurrying around in somewhat of a dither.

After deducting that such a confused-looking individual could only be a hapless frosh in total despair, I quickly earned my 25th merit badge (the one for rescuing lost persons, naturally) by conducting the gentleman to the correct room.

Rick Dykes

Upon thanking me profusely for my stately deed, he ventured to ask if I would answer a question. After much soul-searching, since nobody helps a frosh too much, I haltingly agreed.

"HOW DO YOU people get out of your bathrooms around here?" he whispered. Having never applied myself fully to the problem, I was slightly taken aback. I parried for time to recoup, asking him for the complete lowdown.

THE POOR MAN explained that he had happily walked into campus bathrooms on two different occasions, only to be trapped when he tried to come out because the doors have no handles.

Looking sadder by the moment, he stated that after being trapped for about ten minutes the first time, he used his knife to pry the door open and escape. The second occasion warranted his rushing out the moment someone opened the door to come in.

Realizing that time was against us by his strained look, I hurriedly showed him that our campus bathrooms have two doors, one entrance and one exit, with a concrete partition separating most of them.

So instructors and upper-classmen, unite! Help keep our young college men and women out of the bathrooms and in the classrooms! Enough said.

Women's Sports Activities Begin With Volleyball

ALL WOMEN interested in Women's Recreation Association met in the gym Tuesday to participate in volleyball, the first activity scheduled for this year.

These activities aren't limited to a specific number and anyone interested may turn out each Tuesday at 7 p.m.

WRA is still looking for any women students interested in forming a field hockey team. Those interested should contact Mrs. Racy or Miss Cook.

Young Republicans Organize On Campus

FIRST MEETING of the Young Republicans was held Thursday to choose officers and to plan the year's activities.

Rick Stevens, last year's president, acted as chairman of the first meeting.

"Although all our plans are not made, we will help on the local campaign for Dick Christiansen (R-Wash.) for United States Senator," Stevens said.

In two weeks Stevens will go to Ellensburg to help the Republicans map out their strategy for the Christiansen campaign.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I couldn't help but make a comparison between the Bakers field game and the Grays Harbor game. At the Bakersfield game there were 18,359 persons. Last week there was a capacity crowd of 4,400.

Many of these people had to stand in order to watch the game. How long do you think people will keep on coming if this is the kind of treatment that they are going to get?

It seems a shame, with the great possibilities that the stadium has, not to build at least a section on the east side like those on the west side.

I am sorry to say that I am not informed as to whose duty this is. Be it the school district, the college, or the town, this responsibility is being shirked.

Let us take a long look at some of the other schools and think, then do some acting. CBC deserves an adequate stadium.

THE WINNERS' GAME Saturday night, but you wouldn't have been in the cheering section. There was more noise from the crowd when they came out of a huddle than there was from the game.

There was more spirit at funerals than I did Saturday night. Either the student section lost their voices or they didn't know which team to root for. We're in Blue and White, men.

Although we may not realize it for its full importance as yet, those men we see out by the Gym every night constitute a first in the history of Washington State.

Never before in our glorious history has there been a team from a Washington College, junior or four-year, which has been rated Number One in the nation. That's the United States of America, people.

My congratulations to the Cheerleaders for a job well done. For a group of kids who didn't have anybody cheering with them, they did an excellent evening.

Maybe the blame can not be placed entirely on the student section because most of them were seated so high up they couldn't breathe let alone cheering. Next time let's start cheering from the bottom up. At least we might be able to SEE the game.

Disorganization in seating and the lack of cooperation from the student body is the only reason for CBC's poor showing as a football team.

Pre-game spirit must be had from the student body. More pep rallies, more information about the game and the football players to the school.

Let these suggestions be observed or should better ones be. At least promote a spirit that is sorely lacking. We are Number One, that we always will be.

...CONTINUED...

WE ARE EXTREMELY HAPPY to note that the cheerleaders except Bob Vogler's, are in excellent condition . . . if you who are still hashing over the recent Heavyweight Championship bout, if you can call it that, let it drop. College football is coming into its own once more. We won't pick any particular team this year but watch out for 'Bama. The Crimson seems to like being on top . . . Anybody who thinks that the team have a pennant winning record is right. Their monopoly on the flag is far and away ahead of their rivals, the Giants. The New Yorker's have 27 wins while the Giants have 18 . . . Speaking of the Yanks; the team who brought New York just about half of those victories has signed for another year with the baseball team. We wonder why a man who owns acres of money and is a successful banker bothers with the game of baseball. Maybe it's because 72-year-old Casey Stengel is one of the few men left who really loves baseball . . . Ohio Stadium stadium at Columbus has been completely booked for all football games this year. This means a potential crowd of people will be watching the Buckeyes battle on the field.

"GOOD SIZE, speed and depth."

This is how assistant coach, Wally Brown, described this year's grid squad.

The Hawks started practice September 6 with two workouts a day then went to single practices September 13. The team has been working hard every day and was on a training table diet for the first two weeks.

With three offensive and defensive teams to choose from Brown said that with work, this could be a repeat of the 1961 champion Hawks.

"The student body is of prime importance to the team. If all the students sit in one section, take part in the yells and really get behind the Hawks, this will be a great help to the boys on the field," Brown said.

DAVE MORTON catches a pass and romps to a TD in Saturday CBC - Grays Harbor tilt.

Hawks Romp First League Opponents

By Gary McMillan

CBC HAWKS romped over a surprised Grays Harbor 30-6 in their first league game Saturday night at the Edgar Brown Stadium.

A crowd of 4,400 watched the combined talents of Mike Monahan and All-Americans Bud Hare and Dave Morton completely stymie the Chokers.

The massive mastadons labeled Gang Busters II but bearing a close resemblance to Murder, Inc., held the vaunted Choker offense to a total of 37 yards.

The Hawk's first TD came after a thrilling 63-yard march climaxed by Bud Hare's jack-rabbit run. Hare bounded for a 21-yard payoff after Monahan had set it up with an 18-yard pass to Dave Morton.

The Hawks hit paydirt once more in the first quarter as Hare wiggled through left tackle for an 11-yard TD. Les Muller, the huge Hawk place-kicker, converted for the PAT.

THE HAWKS then became afflicted with fumbleitis but Murder Inc. prevented the Chokers from capitalizing on the slippery ball.

The second quarter saw a 37-yard field goal by Muller—the third in CBC's history.

Fumbleitis took hold of the Hawks again as Grays Harbor made good on the recovery. A 23-yard pass from Archie Morrison to Sonny Luke set up the lone Choker touchdown as Larry Willison scampered over with 46 seconds left in the half.

The Hawks picked up 14 more points in the third period on the mighty arm of Monahan and the power of Fred Lenseigne.

Dave Morton, catching a 43 yard Monahan toss, galloped over for the first tally. Lenseigne experienced TD fever for the first time when he drove around left end for the second six-pointer.

FOURTH QUARTER saw a marked desire by Choker players to elude the grasping meathooks of CBC. This play-busting combination led by Roger Weber, John Gregory and Butch Phillips forced the Chokers into a series of bad plays resulting in equally bad punts.

The Hawks threatened once more near the end of the game but a fumble on the Chokers 18 stopped the drive.

Wenatchee Termed Tough Team to Beat

By Dennis Large

ACCORDING to the top informers, our football team has a hard game ahead. The other team, namely the Wenatchee J. C. gridders, also has a good reputation.

Coach Poole sets the scene by saying:

"They really want to beat us."

This should be one of the toughest games of the season. What is the reason behind this assumption? Wenatchee has a great offense, considerable size, and some of the best full-backs in the league; namely, Gillespie, a rough fellow to deal with.

Another factor to consider is that CBC plays them on their own field, which has a lot to do with the team's playing psychologically.

The Hawks are faced with a big challenge, but so was Bakersfield.
